

THE PMS YOUTH INTERNSHIP PROGRAM

The Youth Internship Program (YIP) is a year-round program that initiates the students and out-of-school youths into public service by providing the participants practical work experience involving government programs and projects.

The PMS - YIP aims to:

1. Provide opportunities for the youth to use their knowledge, talents and skills in worthwhile activities and expose them to actual government operations;
2. Instill among the youth awareness on the President's policies as well as his priority programs and projects;
3. Provide training and financial assistance to support the youth participant's educational and career development requirements;
4. Serve as recruitment mechanism; and
5. Augment PMS manpower for technical and/or administrative needs.

The PMS - YIP has two (2) primary components, namely:

1. Student Practicum Program (SPP) – an internship program for undergraduate and graduating college students who would like to hold their office practicum/on-the-job training in government to fulfill a requirement for their graduation.
2. Government Internship Program (GIP) - an internship program for students and out-of-school youth, who are financially in need but possess above average skills and potentials. GIP interns will receive a daily stipend as a form of assistance for at least two (2) months but not to exceed three (3) months of service.
